COST OF TOGOLAND EXPEDITION.

Gold Coast's Generous Offer.

The operations which resulted in the copture of the German colony of Togoland and in the destruction of the great wireless telegraph installation at Kamina have cost approximately £60,000. The "Legislative Council of the Gold Coast have resolved to meet all the expenditure incorred in this connection, so as to give "tangible expression to the widelymanifested wishes of the inhabitants to afford their loyal support to his Majesty's Government, and to manifest their symbuthy with it in the rightness war in which the Empire is engaged." About £3,000 per month will at present be required in order to defray the expenses. of administration, and the necessary sums will also be voted by the Government of 71 the Gold Coast.

Furthermore, the Governor telegraphed on December 2 that the revision of the Revenue Estimates having disclosed much more favourable position than was at first anticipated, he had "inserted, at the carnestly expressed wishes of Unofficial members of Council, a sum £80,000 as a contribution by the Gold Coast during 1915 to the expenses of the prepared to ACCEPT RISKS from this war which his Majosty's Government will date. incur," this being in addition to the provision of the expenses of the Togoland expedition. The Colonial Secretary has replied that the offer "will be ne epted gladly, if it should appear that the financial position of the Gold Coust allows of so large a contribution."

"If it hadn't been or tched," he said, "I should have backed Warlingham." When I got home there was a letter waiting for me. It was from the McLosder of the Aldwych, and was written from Warrington. I went out to post the answer, and passed a board. ing. On it were two bills. One was headed "Warning" and the other "Raward." To relieve my feelings I opened my favourite volume, "Mysteries of Police and Crime."
I opened the book haphazard, and uttered a cry of joy. The story before me was that of a notorious burglar. "Peace at Last 1" I cried. The discovery had southed my

The "Jupan"Chronicle" of the 13th January reports:-With the arrival ain-Kobe-yesterday of the passengers and crew of the P. and O. steamer Nile, full particulars were obtainable regarding the wrock of that steamer in the Inland Sea. As mentioned in our yesterday's issue, the Nile, a steamer of 6,702 tons, ar one of the new " N " class of the P, and O. Company, struck a rock off Iwaijima, in the Inland sen, early on Monday morning and foundered. Those on board left the stemper in boats and were picked up by the Japanese collier Fukuyu maru, which brought them on to Kobe. Captain H. Powell, the master of the Nila, court yously gave a Chroniela repr sentative yesterday some particulars of the accident. The Nile left Moji, where she had taken on coal, at 10 o'clock on Sunday night. It was then raining hard and the sea was wild. Captain D. A. G. THE Undersigned have received instruc-King was the pilot on board. All wentwell until 2.32 on Monday morning, when the vessel struck the southern extremity of Iwaijima, a small island on the north side of the Inland. Sea, and the first of the numerous islands which are passed on the way up from Shimonoseki after the wide open stretch of water known as the Sawo Nada has been crossed. Through the gloom and rain the island VALUABLE TEARWOOD AND could be seen rising up on the port side to a height of 130 feet. The engines were at once stopped but the steamer Two Drawing Room Suites, Bedroom was evidently so firmly fixed on the rocks Furniture. Dining Room Furniture, Armthat it was impossible to move her off disappeared in the log. Fertunately, she chairs and Soiss, Carpets and Rugs, Brass without great risk. The forward hold and Brass-mounted Bedsteads, Toilet was at once sounded, and found to be Tables. Wardrobes, Washstands, &c., filling somewhat rapidly with water. Sideboards, Dinner Waggons, Extension Captain Powell thereupon decided that Dining Tables and Chairs, etc., etc., it was necessary to order all the passen-Dinner and Dessert Services, Crockery, gers to take to the boats. Glass and E.-P. Ware, Cooking Stoves,

The crew promptly took up their stations and all the boats were swung out. On account of the high sen which" was running, no little skill was required to bring the boats round to the gangway Blackwood Fire Screen, Stands, Teapoys, which had been lowered, but happily no Settees, etc., Two Pianos, Marbie Clocks, sort of accident occurred. The women Two Combination Safes, Remington Typeand children were put into the first boat which was in charge of the Second Officer. Mr. Burge. The male passengers took their places in the second boat, under Third Officer, Mr. Bates. The third boat took off the Purser, stewards, and others of the European crew, and was in charge of Mr. Grimsditch, the Fourth Officer. 77 The fourth boat contained the engineers and firemen, and was under the orders of Mr. Vincent, the Third Engineer. The fifth heat also took off members of the native crew. The Captain, the Chief Pilot, together with six members of the the crew remained on board until the third bont returned for them from the Fukuyu-maru.

wireless calls were sent out calling for assistance, the well-known S.O.S. being Rockets were also sent up co tinually, while coloured lights wer flared from the ship's deck. Happily these brilliant signals were seen by the collier Fukuyu maru, owned by Mr. Kodera of Kobe, and she at once stood by to render assistance. The Kukuyu-maru kept about a mile away from the wreck. but dispatched a boat to offer aid. The Nile, however, had sufficient boats take off overybody, and these at once mulo for the Kukuyu-maru, except one. which remained in the vicinity of the wreck in case it should be required bebore the third boat returned from the collier to take off the Captain and others still on board. The there boat returned from the Fukuyu-maru, in timo to rescue the ten persons still on board the Nile the Captain being the last to leave. By this time the liner was settling down by the Twiton and not even are appearance head, and the water was already up to the bridge. Those in the boat had to pull very hard in order to get away from the vortex caused by the final disappearancer of the steamer beneath the waves. At twenty minutes past four the Nile began to slip off the ledge of rock on which she had rested and to sink deeper and deeper by the head. In a few minutes the was towering almost perpendicularly out of the water, the stern being far above those in the boatsalmost as high, it seemed, as the lofty pinnacle of rock on which they had been wrocked. One electric monthead light was still burning, but this grew disamer as the versel sank down deeper. Sudher final plunge into the water and by half past four there was not a truce of her to be seen. The boat containing the officers now pulled for the Fukuyu maru, and they were soon on board her. Meanwhile the boat which had been ordered to stand by } the Nile for emergencies had drifted sofar away owing to the strong current which was running that she had quitwas in good hands, an about half an hour afterwards every one of the 160 persons reserved was safe on board the

Everything possible was done for the distressed passengers and erow on the Fukuyu-maru. Naturally the accommodation was scanty, but the best parts of the ship were given up to the women and children, while the others were made as comfortable as possible. Captain Powell, in describing his experiences to our representative, was warm in his praise of the Fukuyu-maru's Captain and her crew, who could not have been more kind or generous in their treatment of the shipwrecked company. The Fukuyamaru, which was bound for Osaka, put n at Kobe specially to land the Nile party, reaching here a little before noon esterday.

Dr. Ascherson, of Kobe, who returned from a short holiday in England as a passenger on the Nilo, seen by a Chronicle representative, had nothing to add to the Captain's narrative, except to say Officer (Mr. F. S. Murray), the Chief that he wished to pay a tribute to the Engineer (Mr. H. U. Sharp), and the excellent manner in which the work of disembarkation was conducted. There was absolutely no panie on the Nilo when she struck the rock, the passengers being reassured by the calm demeanour From the moment the steamer struck of the officers and crew. We understand that Dr. Ascherson and his fellow-pagsengers have signed a testimonial exused, but there was no response until 4 pressing their appreciation of the great o'clock, when the Kure Station answered efficiency, courage, and courtesy shown that destroyers were being sent to her by all on board in the hour of danger. Captain Powell was also very gratified with the conduct of the officers and men

OTHER DETAILS.

Well-known -- Kobe -- residents -- Bishop Foss and his family, and Dr. Ascherson, -were welcomed on the Hatoba about noon yesterday, the welcome being all the warmer because of the danger they had just passed through almost withing sight of their destination. The new P. and O. steamer Nile left Moji about 10 o'clock on Sunday night in beavy rain and thick darkness. Captern King being pilot. On such a night, of course, everybody turned in early, in hopes of waking up to enjoy part at least of the Inland Sed passage in botter weather.

Captain Powell, in command, had not long gons to his room, and was writing a letter, the Second Officer relieving him on the bridge, when, at about 2.45 a.m. the passengers were awakened by a sucl-THE ALEXANDRA CAPE Cannot be den shock and crush, with the sensation Beaten, If Equalled, For Bread of complete stoppage. The ladies just put showls over their heads none of them staying to put on, a hat. It was still raining hard when they reached the deck where the crew were all at their stations, but fortunately it slack-ened soon, and the passengers did not get very budly drauched. For some tine -it seemed to those waiting mulonger than it really was-nothing could be done, though the wireless operator was busy sending out his signals of distress First to pick them up was the naval station, and word was sent back that help would be sent" from Kure. But Kirrs was sixty miles from the rocky lister of Uwnijima (close to Iwnijima). where the ship struck, and there was no time to be lost. The ship was visibly setting, and though the water had not invaded the salcons or other living quartern, it was not considered sale for anybody to descend to resour baggage. I bursting bulkhead might at any moment have drowned anybody who ventured. The boils were therefore lewered, and the passengers put off. A message meanwhile had been received from the Fukuyumara, a collier, bound from Moji to Osaka, to say that she was coming up. and the first boat that left the Nile was met by a boat from the Japanese stenmer Learning that the P. and O. thip had sufficient of her own boats, the Fukuyu's 43 bont put back and helped the pursunger on board their own ship. From the time the ship struck there had been not only no panie, but not the loss truce of conanxiety. The lasears behaved splendidly standing patiently at their station. awaiting orders, and not even attempting a dash below to stave their scanty belongings. The whole business of transferring the ship's company to the other UNDERTAKES . steamer was performed as methodically and calmly as though it were a part of the ordinary day's programme the last incidents on board was the Indian fireinen (who, like the rest, were losing all their things) coming up to condole with the Captain on the loss of

Arriving on board the Fukuvu-maru, the refugees were treated as well as they possibly could be. There was not much dealy, with a terrific roar, the Nile took | English spoken on board, but there were "old Japan hands!" among the passengers who could talk the language as well as they could their own. The Captain and officers gave them all they had. installing them in their own cabins, and then simply effaced themselves.

The Captain of the Fukuyu said he would stand by and see the last of the unfortunate Nile. What with the heavy ain and clouds the Inland Sea lights had been auito obscured, and, in waters so full of cross current, havigation wa extremely difficult. In spite of the utmost care, the ship had got about a mile from her course, and had run on to the reef which culminates just to the southsouth-west of Uwajima in two recks projecting some forty feet from the water. Almost immediately after striking, the Nile had slipped off, and was settling a about twenty fathoms. The watchers had not long to wait. In a manner reminiscent of the off-told story of the Titunie, she heaved up her stern," and. with a crashing and rending in her interior which blent into a sound like a rolonged grean, she slid into the silence of the deep water. The ship upended within two or three minutes of the Captain, Pilot, and First Officer leaving in the last boat, and in about twenty minutes was completely submerged.

There was nothing for it now but to come on to Kobe; but first the Captain of the Fukuyu-maru, headed for Mitsunohama in order to telegraph there. He had kenrat from the Nile's people that she had been in communication with Kure, and had simply gone on calling. It was obvious that however promptly the naval station sent out destroyers to assist, they could not arrive in firm to see any trace of the lost ship, and, the news having meanwhile been sent out from Kure that the Nile had been calling up held but had stopped of being still above water; might entise graphed from Mitsunohama. Captain proceeded to scour the town for

It was extremely fortunate that the passenger list was a small one. It had been a full ship as far as Singa for publication but as evidence of good. pore, but there, and at Hongkong and faith, Shanghai the greater number had left her, only seventeen coming on to Japan.

The Nile had discharged a great deal of cargo as well as passengers at the China ports, but she had taken on a couple ofthousand tons of coal at Moji. Neither a passenger nor any member of the crew suffered any bodily injury in the affair, which was very fortunate, but none left doing so and was giving no further sign the ship with very much more in the way of balongings than an imperfect suit great anxiety. So the news was tele- of clothes. Two of Bishop and Mrs. Foss's little girls landed with Japanese kimonos by way of covercoute, and one o them stockingless. One little alleviation makes the lot of several of the passengers more easily to be borne with philosophy La consideration of the risks run during the present state of war, with one or two hostile cruisers still at large among the Seven Sens, baggage had been insured against all risks much more generally than is usual. We understand that among the various things lying at the

It was one of the ironies of fate that the ship should be wrecked at the very end of the voyage when the all appear ance, all danger, whether of war or fempest, was over. Copley Moyle reported that at an adjourned meeting of seatholders and subscribers it was decided to go forward with the proposal. On April 15 the Church Body wrote Home to the Rev. Mr. Johnston and asked him to select a suitable clergyman. The task was by no means an easy one. Mest of the applicants were married and some of them were not very young and mostly unsuitable, but ab las: Mr Johnston was able to recommend very strongly the Rev. H. G. H. Four pupil midwives had completed their training and received cortificates during the year. Several factors militated against the number of patients treated being as large as in the previous year. The severe epide- 31.2. mic of plague and the outbreak of the Furopean war as well as a belief among certain of the Chinese that Hongkong was to subside into the sea accounted for the exodus of many Chinese families from the Colony and deteired many patients from coming in from the country districts : despits those untoward events there had been 1330 inpatients, 26, 00 outpatient visits and 600 operations performed during the year. The Committee expressed their thanks to the us bacribers and conors of special, gifts and to Dr. G. P. Jordan, Dr. C. held services in the Hospitals on Sundays. Teere were three baptisms. The Rev. T. E. Pearce moved a resolution expressive of the committee's sense of regret at the death of Sir Kai fin Kai and its testimony to the public services he rendered in founding the Alice Memorial Hospital and developing and maintaining the affiliated institutions. In doing so he said they felt Sir Kai's services to be inestimable. They all knew how constant'y occupied he was with endeavours for the public good and he, who knew him for thirty years, could bear witness to the place which these hospitals had in his constant regard. They knew too, the faculty he had for attracting others to him in his endeavours to relieve sickness and suffering. The most fitting way they could keep his memory green was to exte d and develop the work he carried on.

The Chairman seconded the resolution which was unanimously carried. Mr. Coppin, commenting upon th accounts for the past year, pointed out that the donations were $1534 less than in 1913 the principal falling off having been i Chinese subscriptions, despite the fact that the hospitals existed solely for the benefit of Chinese patients. Excaptional expense had been incurred on account of repairs and purchase of clothing, two items which would not necessarily be recurrent. This year on account of the war the subscriptions of German firms amounting to about $700 would be lost. The Chairm is also referred to the falling off in Chinese subscriptions and mentioned that at the end of last year there was an overdraft of $6507 at the bank, an increase of $2,500 on the deficit in the previous year. The first effort of the committee should be to reduce that deficit. He also meda reference to the urgent need of modern operating theatre at the Nethersole Hospital to replace the present one, which would not be tolerated in any up to date institution. The cost would be $30.00 and towards this only $14,000 had been Hour Mr. Shellim called attention to the fact that although he had been for three or four years a member of the finance committee he had not been invited to a single committee meeting. The accounts estudying them. Two years and small sub-committee, to go into the affairs house and stole clothing valued at 87 and of the hospitals, and he now renewed this suggestion. He did not think many of his follow committee-men cared to occupy a whose money is supposed to have been position in which their services were not made use of or were not required.

Mr. G. T. Edkins expressed similar views, and made it clear that he did not mention the matter in any critical spirit but with the idea that the work of the executive would be facilated if they had the advice and assistance of the members of Dr. Gibson explained that the Finance committee in its present form came into being before he became associated with the hospitals and that in past years sub-committoe meetings had been called to discuss Mr. Ho Fook asked why the scheme for he extension of the Nethersole Hospital was not laid befor the members, of the Finance committee? The High Commissioner paid a tribute to the work of the vessel, and added: "Such an event marks a new era in the history of the Empire. THE BALECT COMMITTER'S REPORT. The Select Committee appointed to consider the question of a water carriage system presented the following report.

The Sub-Committee (whose names are below) appointed by the Board to consider the question of water-closets met in the Sinitary Board Room on Tuesday, 12th

Inquiries have been mad, by the Sub-C mmittee during the past three months.

1.—It is found that there are at present existing 1,155 water-closets, of which 173 are trough wat r-closets. These 173 comprise 360 scats. There are also 533 water-matter of connection water closets with the water-mains; but only in cases where tanks connected with mains were allowed on by the Board for the water closet. The Sub-Committee therefore recommend:—

1 .- That an annual fee of $50 per watercloset be imposed for each new permit issued, the permits so issued to be subject | the keys of the locker and witness's husto the existing conditions, and in addition band could not even get into the wine to he renewable only subject to satisfactery inspection and report. 2. That existing closets should.

possible, be brought within this system as soon as possible, and that pending applications be granted, if at all, only subject to such new conditions as may from time to time be added. 3 .- The sewer out falls under piers ends of the piers. 4.—That the matter of the tanks on roofs, fed from the main, should be brought to the notice of the water

5.—That no special action is called for as regards urinals.

Mr. they should be inspected, if possible, more and Mrs. White are to spend their honey- frequently. The Committee realised that moon in England, and on the expiration of that would necessitate possibly an increase in the staff of the Department, and it was felt that under those circumstances the people who benefitted by this particular privilege should contribute something towards the extra cost of supervision. With regard to the minute of the Director of Public Works, conditions in this Colony were not the same as they were at Home In all the towns at Home practically every cottage had it water-closet, but that was not the case here. The reason was that the water supply was not adequate while another very important reason was that Chineso servants in the ordinary household did not understand the use water-closets and they frequently got out of order. In regard to the suggestion that the annual fee would be a hardship on the people who had the privilege of a watercloset, he would like to ment on that those householders who did not have water-closets had to pay coo'ies $2 or $3 a month for the removal of the waste, and they would be relieved fom that necessity by a watercloset. Also, the Government derived a certain revenue from the sale of excretia, and the Government would lose that, so here was a real financial reason why there should be some small fee imposed. Mr. Ng Hon Tsz seconded. .Mr Fitzwilliams thought it was a rather unfortunatetime to discuss the report. There were two unofficial members of the Board who had no right to be sitting, Mr. Goldzing and himself. He moved that the discussion be renewed at a later date. Hon. Mr. Hewett: If you don't exist you cannot make a motion (laughter). Dr. Fitzwilliams: I beg for permission to make the suggestion.

Mr. Hewett: I'll move the resolution as Dr. Fitzwilliams and Mr. Goldring are non est at the present time flaughter Eventually the Board decided to adjourn he debate.

SCOTTISH LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

EDINDURAH, December 17.

FOOTBILL AND THE WAR. The Scottish Football Association contin es its policy of playing out time. delegates who attended the International Conference in London submitted a report in favour of the abandonment of Internationals and Cup Ties. Consideration of this report was delayed till next Tuesday : so was the draw for the first and second rounds of the Scottish Cup. This is rather more hopeful than if the Association had made the draw before considering a report against the continuance of Cup Ties, which however, would hardly have been more abourd than the argument now widely used by club directors and managers, that pro-fessional football should be continued because a great many men who used to watch foutball have enlisted. The annual report of the Ladies' Highland Association incidentally gives a striking glimpse of the present state of the Western Islands. It states that there has Sain been an absolute stripping away of the whole energetic manhood, that all are in the service of the country. At Bernara of Lewis, should a doctor bu required, it was doubtful if there were enough able-bodied men on the island to man a bout, and the population of the island before the war Hougeons. Observatory, Jan. 27, 1915.

was over 580. Perhaps the most original gift to the men at the front consists of 80,000 buttonhooks, which are being distributed among the Highland regiments and the London Scottish by a Colonial gentleman. Howard Greene Barrie, M.R.C.S. Eng.,

L.RC.P., London, Kuling, China, and John Kirk, M.B., Ch. B. University of Edinburgh, Canton, South China, having passed the requisite examinations were admitted Fellows of the Royal College of Sargeons, Edinburgh.

The ma ringe took place"at the Hotel Balmoral, Glasgow, of Gilbert M'Garva, Pekin, to Agnes Purdie, eldest daughter Hot and Cold Water System throughout, of the late Thomas Hill, consulting engineer, and of Mrs. Hill, 381 Albert Crescent, L ngside, formerly of Inzierar. Newlands.

Colonel Archibald G. B. Urmston, late Royal Marine Light Inf ntry, who has been appointed to the command of the 1st Edinburgh Battalion of the Royal Scots, is well known in the Far East. He served under Sir John Jellicoo on the China station, where he was on board H.M.S. Powerful, and he saw a good deal of the fighting in the Philippine Inslands between the forces of the United States, and Sp in. and later between those of the United States and General Aguinaldo, being taken prison r by Aguinaldo but released after a short detention. He also served in the South African War, and since his retiretment held the Military Lectureship in S. Andrews University. After a long run of penny transactions for flags on Tobacco Day for soldiers at Haiching, British steamer, 1,267, W. C. | the Front, a little girl collecting in the Passmore, Foochow Jan. 24, Amoy 25, and Possilpark district of Glasgow was pleasantly surprised when a member of the black sound came along and, after being duly decorated, slowly counted threevence-haspenny into her box. "Mind," he explained, "you tell the commytee that that's for an ounce o' thick black .- nao cigarretes, mind !" WHO'S WHO IN THE CASUALTIES. Among those reported killed and died of wounds are Captain J. P. S. Gordon, Daigi Maru, Japanese steamer, 1,508, S | Scottish Rifles, youngest son of the late Tokushige, Tamsui, via Amoy and Swatow | General Sir John J. K. Gordon, and grandson, of the late Lord Gordon. Captain Thomas Todrick, W. S., Edinburgh, commanding the Dalkeith Company of the 8th Royal Scots, elder son of the Hou.
